

December 2020

Letter from the Editor

Jay Nathan
St. John's University

Recommended Citation

Nathan, Jay (2020) "Letter from the Editor," Journal of Global Awareness: Vol. 1: No. 2, Article 1.
DOI: <https://doi.org/10.24073/jga/1/02/01>
Available at: <https://scholar.stjohns.edu/jga/vol1/iss2/1>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by St. John's Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Journal of Global Awareness by an authorized editor of St. John's Scholar. For more information, please contact karniks@stjohns.edu, fuchsc@stjohns.edu, fazzinol@stjohns.edu.

Letter from the Editor

Countries and cultures are all around

US. Global awareness is about engaging and promoting more profound understanding of people around the world. The Journal of Global Awareness (JGA) provides a forum for scholarship and research in a quest to enhance our understanding of the political, economic, social, demographic, technological, and environmental issues among members of the global community. This vision promotes peace, harmony, and cooperation among the diverse peoples of the planet.

Nobody stated it better than Mark Twain, who said, “Travel is fatal to prejudice, bigotry, and narrow-mindedness, and many of our people need it sorely on these accounts. Broad, wholesome, charitable views of men and things cannot be acquired by vegetating in one little corner of the earth all one's lifetime.” (Mark Twain, The Innocents Abroad)

Also, keeping with St. John's University's mission and as a former Fulbright scholar, I feel privileged to quote Senator Fulbright, “The rapprochement of peoples is only possible when differences of culture and outlook are respected and appreciated rather than feared and condemned, when the common bond of human dignity is recognized as the essential bond for a peaceful world.” (J. William Fulbright)

We will continue addressing these themes on the future pages of JGA, in addition to other contemporary topics such as diversity and inclusion, climate change, global development, social justice, etc. – as we all continue to strive for a better world.

This is the digital format of JGA, and I am honored to serve as its editor. I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the Dean of the Peter J. Tobin College of Business and the St. John's University Library's Journal Review Committee for their confidence and support.

JGA is a multidisciplinary, peer-reviewed scholarly publication promoting research and scholarship. If anyone would like to participate and write an article in one of the many relevant subject areas, please submit your proposal for consideration. Please encourage your friends and colleagues to do so as well—scholars and researchers around the world are welcome to join and share their knowledge. Together, let's take this great journey of discovery, learning, and serving others.

For questions and proposal submissions, please write to:

Jay Nathan, Ph.D.
Editor, Journal of Global Awareness
Tobin College of Business, Room 454
St. John's University
Queens, New York, 11439
nathanj@stjohns.edu